ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to acknowledge the gratitude felt towards all those who have in any way assisted in the preparation of this work. Space does not permit the listing of their names, but without their co-operation the genealogy would be far less complete. Their assistance and constant encouragement has been an inspiration and incentive to me to put forth my best effort in faithfully recording the history of our family down through the years.

This book is dedicated to the memory of Louis E. Hildebrand, whose sudden and unexpected death in 1937 prevented him from preparing a similar family history which would have been far more complete due to his extensive research both in Germany and Holland (the Netherlands).

THE WEITKAMPS

The name WEITKAMP is an unusual one; but that does not mean it applies to only one family stock. Up to the present time there have been found in the United States at least six family groups with this name. Possibly the largest of these is the one whose early home was found in Ladbergen Westphalia, Germany, a town of about 2,000 inhabitants, approximately twenty miles east of Holland. The village lies north-northeast of the city of Munster. The descendents of this group are found in Cincinnati; DuBois County Indiana; Washington D.C.; Kansas; Dayton, Kentucky; Los Angeles and The Netherlands.
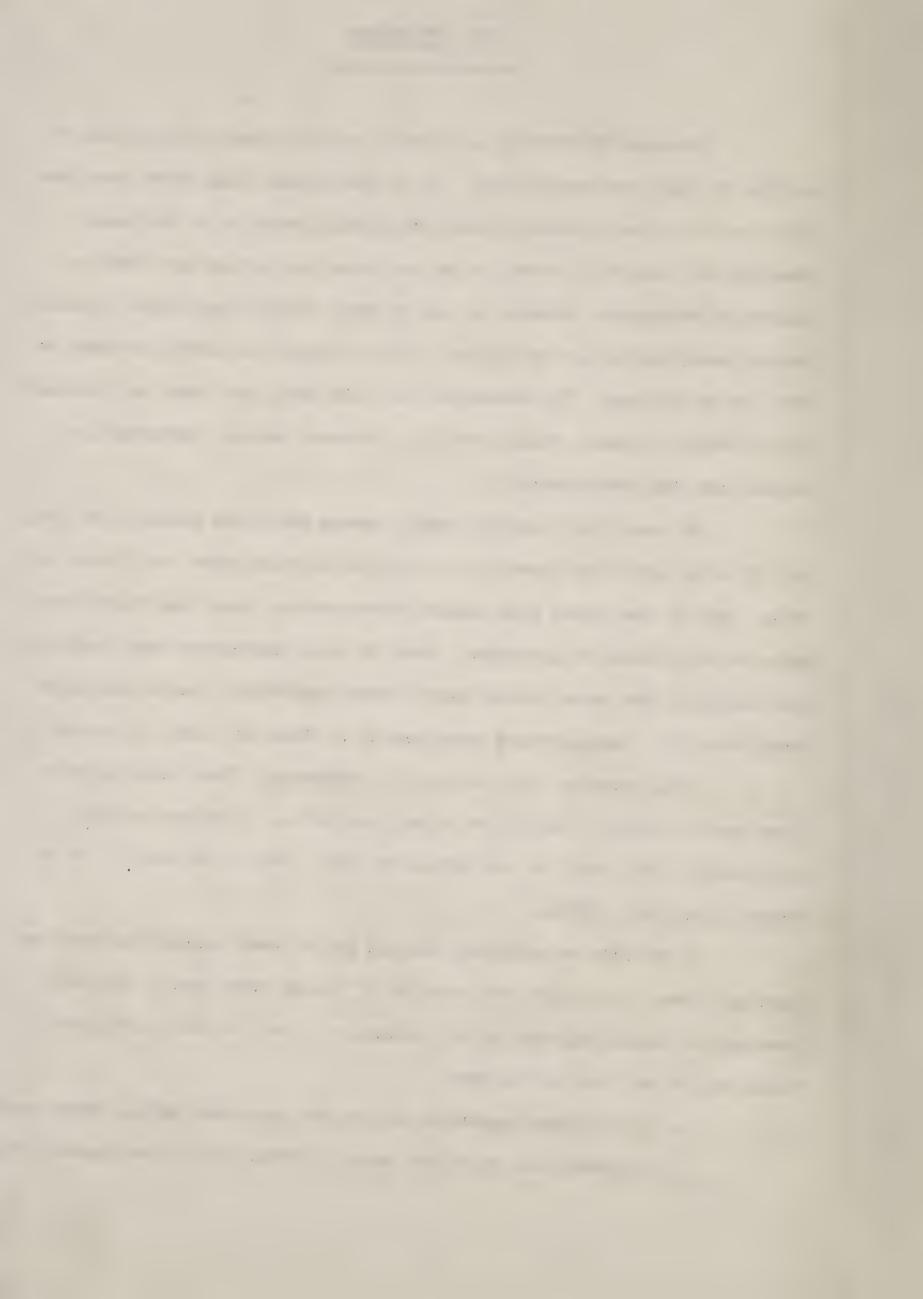

At least four distinct family groups are to be found in St. Louis, all of which came from Germany, but only two of these have been traced to date. One of them comes from Bielefeld Westphalia, less than twenty-five miles east by south of Ladbergen. Part of their descendents are found in Los Angeles. The second group traced comes from Malle, just a few miles from Bielefeld. Some of this group are to be found in Cairo, Illinois.

Still another group is found in Nebraska. Their ancestry came from Herford Germany, only a few miles from Malle. They also settled originally in St. Louis in the spring of 1867. One of the sons is to be found in Whiting, Indiana.

A definite relationship has not as yet been established with regard all these, but there are a number of things that seem to indicate that such a connection does exist, although it may be back quite a way. These may be set down as follows:

1: It is almost startling to see how the names Herman, Henry and William occur again and again in every group investigated. Why?
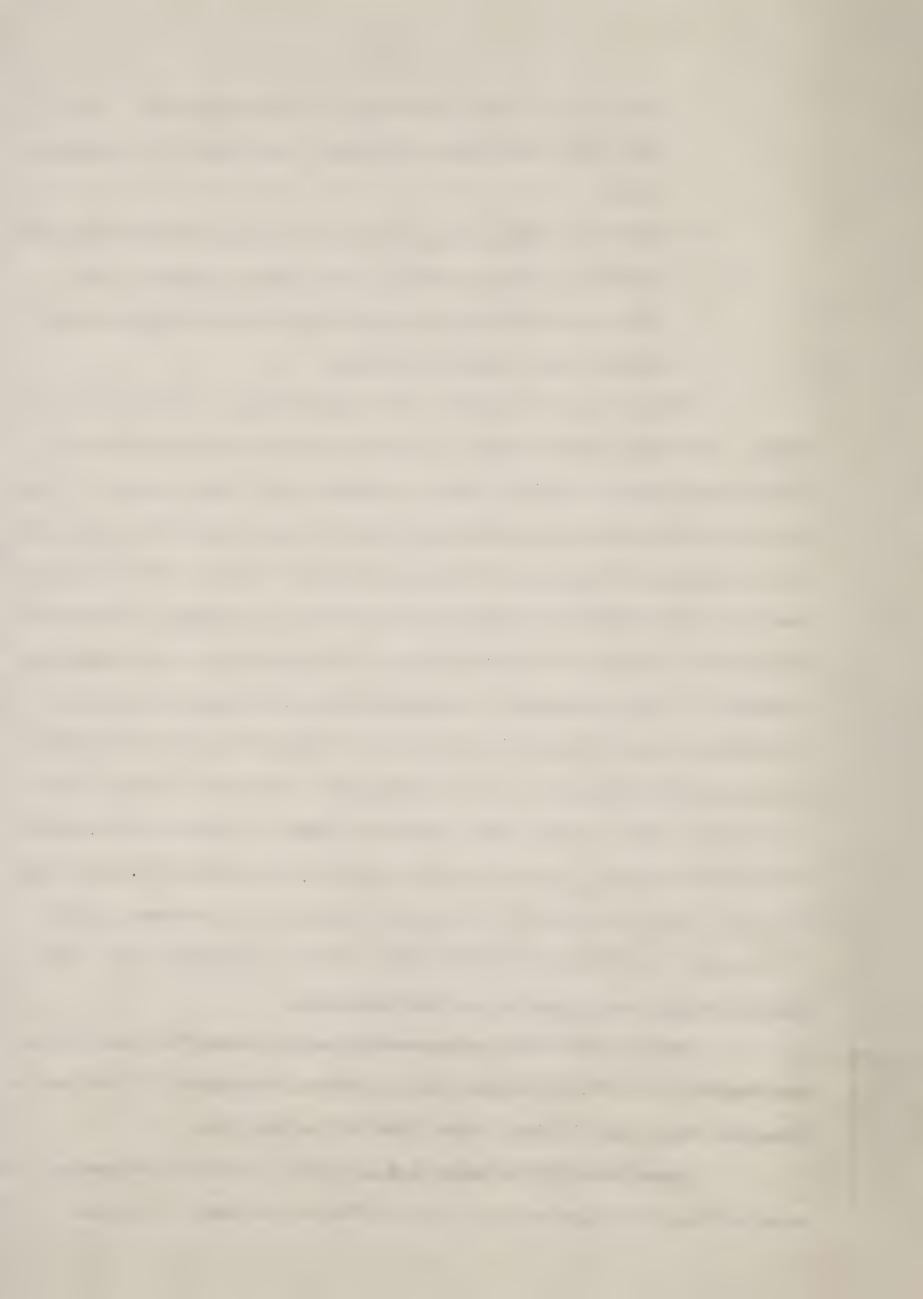

2: Blond and red hair predominates in all the groups. Even the large characteristic Weitkamp nose seems to be frequently seen.

3: All the Weitkamp groups who have been traced find their ancestral home within a circle of forty miles diameter. This circle is found in the German provinces of Westphalia and Hanover which border on Holland.

Where, when, and with whom the name Weitkamp first arose is not known. The name in both German and Dutch means "wide or broad field".
That might indicate that the original ancestor was likely living in a place quite free from hills and mountains. Such a section would fit in with the western parts of Westphalia and Hanover and all of Holland. The earliest record of the Ladbergen Weitkamps is to be found in Germany. On the oven doors of the 1810 build ancestral home of this Ladbergen group appear the initials of their progenitor. Strangely enough, Weitkamp is divided as "Weit Kamp", quite characteristic of a Dutch name. Does this mean that the original Weitkamp was a native of Holland? If this is the case, how is it that we find some of these groups in German cities fifty miles from the Holland border? Bielefeld is to this day quite a center for lace making, an industry introduced by Dutch immigrants in the sixteenth century.
It is easily conceivable that a Weitkamp may have been among these immigrants or have come later to join his countrymen.

The earliest known Ladbergen Weitkamp is Johann Heinrich Weitkamp, who was born in 1770. He married Anna Elizabeth Fiegenbaum in 1795, and to them were born four children, three sons and one daughter.

Johann Heinrich Weitkamp died in 1851 at the age of 81 years. His wife did not live quite so long, for she died at the age of 61 years.

On January 3, 1817, their son Henry John Weitkamp was born. He had two older brothers. One of these, Herman Heinrich, went to Holland (the Netherlands) and later really adopted his nephew William, son of the above Henry John. The other brother, Herman William, emigrated to the United States and settled in Indiana, and there have been marriages in the third generation of the descendents of these two brothers.
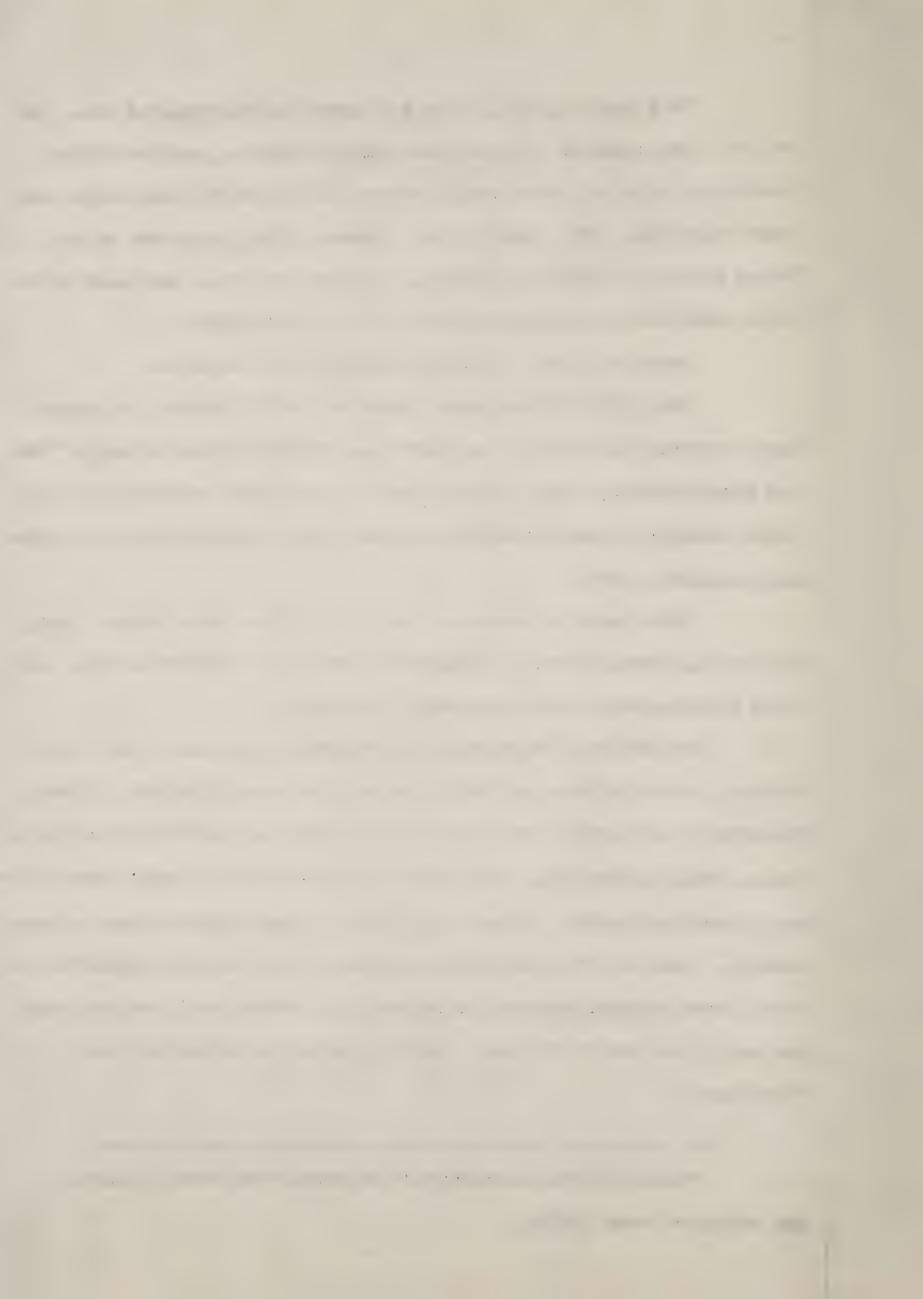

There was also one sister of whom nothing is known.

Henry John Weitkamp was a farmer and cattle trader. He married Anna Christine Elizabeth Borberg (known as Maria Christine Borberg). * She was from Erpenbeck, near Lengerich, and was born there on May 10, 1814. At their marriage a dowery of $1300 was given by her parents. They were probably married in 1837.

Their marriage was blessed by nine children: Henry Herman, Sophia E., William H., Ernst, Herman H., Elizabeth, Fred, Adolph, and Fredericka. All their children were born in Ladbergen, in Prussia.

In 1855 their first child Henry Herman, emigrated to the United States. He was followed in 1865 by his married sister Sophia E. Weitkamp Hildebrand, her husband, and their two daughters; and in 1866 by his brother Ernst. Then in 1870 Henry John Weitkamp and his wife and their other children; Herman and his wife; Elizabeth, Fred, and Fredericka also came to this country. Their son William had already gone to live with his father's brother, Herman Heinrich Weitkamp in Holland (the Netherlands), and the other son Adolph had died in infancy. Thus the entire family had left the "Vaterland".

*Maria Christine Borberg had one brother who lived to an old age and had a large family.

Upon landing in the United States the family settled on a farm among the hills of Pike County near Zoar, Indiana. Here they lived together happily for twelve years. Henry John was a farmer, but also taught school near Zoar, a short distance southeast of the Zoar Methodist Episcopal Church.

ELIZABETH WEITKAMP

The sixth child born to Henry John and Maria Christine Borberg Weitkamp was Elizabeth, who was born on May 24, 1850. She was born and raised in the native town of Ladbergen, and in 1870, when she was about twenty years old, she came to the United States with her parents. The trip across the ocean took approximately three weeks and was made at a time when the Ocean was quite rough. Upon landing in America, she went with her parents to Zoar, Indiana, but soon came to Cincinnati, Ohio, where two of her older brothers, Henry H. Weitkamp and Ernst Weitkamp were en- gaged in business. In Cincinnati, Elizabeth secured a job doing house-work. She remarked in later years how hard she had to work at that time.

Elizabeth Weitkamp married Henry Knost who was born on November 3, 1849, in or near the city of Bremen in Germany. They were married in Cincinnati, Ohio. Henry Knost owned and operated a dairy in Pleasant Ridge, a suburb of Cincinnati; and in later years he was custodian of the Oakley Public School, also located in Cincinnati. In addition to his business he was quite active in church work.

The marriage of Elizabeth Weitkamp and Henry Knost was blessed by a family of seven children; four sons and three daughters. These child- ren were named William, Minnie, Harry, Louise, Louis, Frank and Emma.

William Knost was born on June 28, 1877. He remained at home and assisted his father in the dairy business. Then on September 27, 1899 William died of typhoid fever, at the age of 22 years. He is buried on the family lot in Laurel Cemetery, 5921 Roe Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Minnie Knost was born on December 11, 1878. She married Edward Brunner, an emigrant from Switzerland. His occupation is that of pattern maker. Their union was blessed by three children; Leroy, born on September 25, 1905; Alice, born on August 13, 1913; and Margaret, born on March 1, 1917. Leroy is employed as a chemist; Alice is a saleslady; and Margaret is engaged in office work.

Harry Knost was born on March 5, 1880. He is a retired railroad engineer. Harry married Mathilda Stegmoller and they have a family of two children; Maria, born on September 4, 1908; and Karl, born on March 10, 1914. . . They are both buried in Laurel Cemetery, on the family lot, which is located in Section G. Lot south one-half of 18 and north one-half of 19.
FRED WEITKAMP   -

The seventh child born to Henry John and Maria Christine Borberg Weitkamp was Fred who was born on February 27, 1853 in Ladbergen. He was probably named "Fritz" as that is what his mother used to call him. He was brought up in the Reformed Church, the only religious organization in town. His education was obtained in the Church School at Ladbergen, which he attended from his 7th year to 13th year. This was an eight months' term.
When he finished school he started to work on his father's farm. At 15 he went to live with his brother William in Holland, working on his brother's farm and in his country store.

Probably because of his distaste for Prussian militarism and to prevent the call of his sons for the Franco-Prussian War, J. H. Weitkamp brought all the remaining family except William to the U.S. in 1870, going first to Indiana. Shortly after, Fred came to Cincinnati and lived with his oldest brother Henry. For a short time he worked in a cooperage. After this he worked as a teamster for four years. Next, he started to work for A.D. Bullock, Wool and Feather Dealer, which later became the P.R. Mitchell Co. After being with this concern for three years he was made foreman, which in reality amounted to superintendent, as he was in charge of the entire working force. In this capacity he continued until he was almost 80, when, because of age and growing infirmities, he severed this long connection of 57 years. He had for some time been one of the directors of the firm and continued in this capacity until death.

Physically, Fred Weitkamp was a wirey type of man, sandy complexion, about 5'6" tall, weighing about 150 pounds. He had no intrinsic weakness other than some hay fever. Later in life his hearing became less acute, and he became somewhat uncertain on his feet, requiring the use of a cane. He had had no serious illnesses other than typhoid which he contracted in his early forties. He had a resonant voice and in the German tongue was a rather fluent speaker. In the English there was a decided accent with the result that he would at time mouth his words.

In addition to his early church school education, he attended night school in the city of Cincinnati for the study of English. It was here that he met Adam Bauer. In after years this friendship was renewed which introduced the children of the two families to one another with the result that Alfred, Robert and Edith W. found their spouses in Minna, Emelia, and William B. respectively.

Religion was an exceedingly vital thing with him. It was not simply a matter of beliefs, but a living the principles he believed. Early he was a member of the Evangelical Association. When this church closed its doors about 1888, he united with the First German United Brethern Church at Clinton and Baymiller in Cincinnati, Ohio, continuing a U.B. to the end of his days. At times if the minister was absent, he would act as lay preacher to the edification of many. Besides his own church, he with some others, started and supported the "Light House Mission", an organization attempting to reach the "down-and-outs" of Cincinnati. Later he contributed quite largely to the evangelistic efforts of "God's Bible School" of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Fred Weitkamp married Sophia Wicke on November 24, 1881, the day before Thanksgiving. Sophia Wicke was born in Cincinnati on October 27, 1853. She was the daughter of Julius C. and Sophia Woebbeking Wicke who had come to the United States in 1850 from Germany.
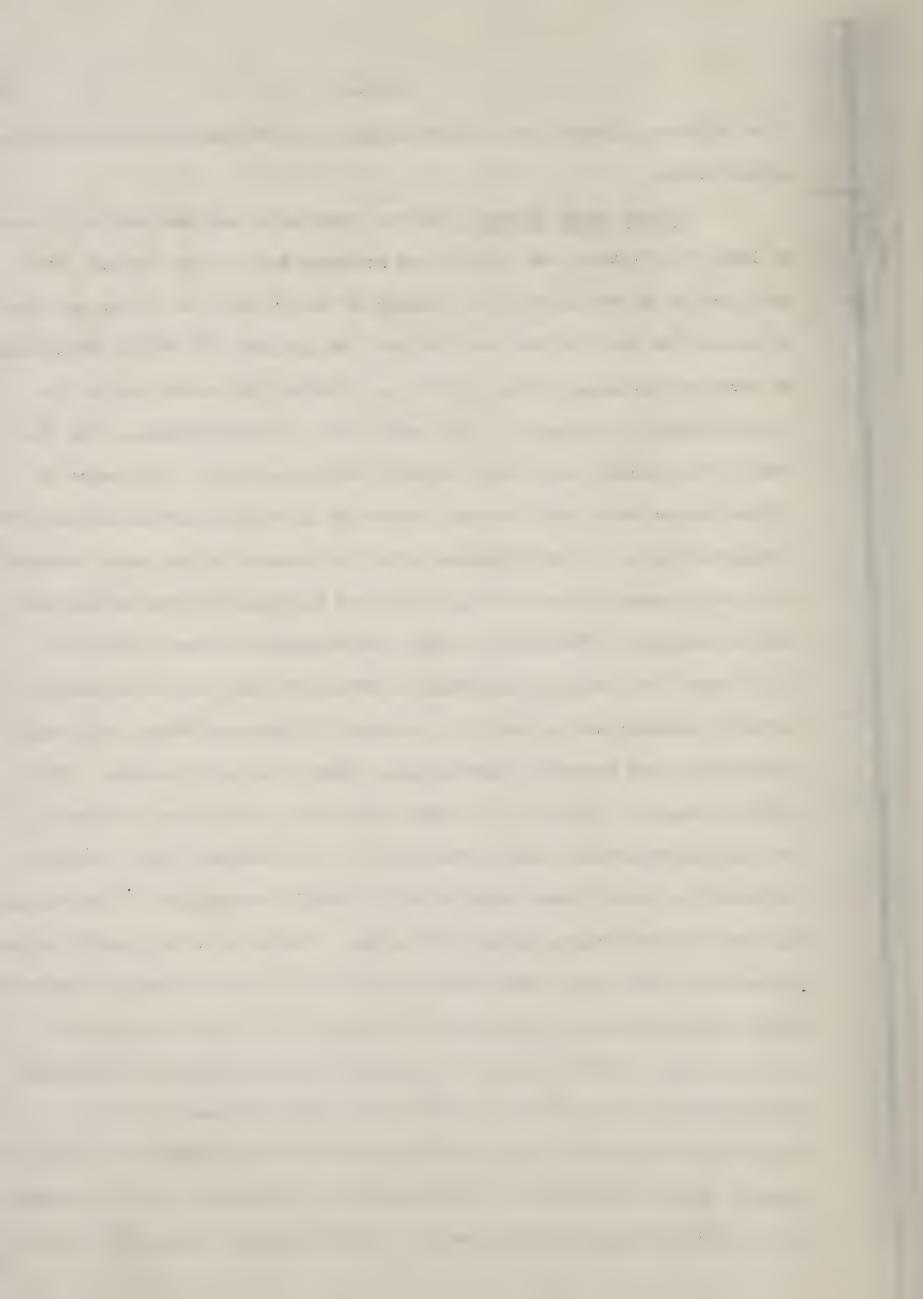

The marriage of Fred and Sophia Wicke Weitkamp was blessed with five children; Alfred Henry, Robert August, Erma Sophia, Edith Elizabeth and Arthur Fred.

Alfred Henry Weitkamp was the first child and was born on October 8, 1882. At fifteen, the idea of the ministry took rather definite hold upon him and he was sent to the Academy of Asbury College. After one year at Asbury, he went to Otterbein College, the leading U.B. school from which he received his A.B. degree in 1904 . . . During the junior year of his college course, medicine as a life work made a profound appeal. For the next fifteen years, there was a constant struggle between the desire to follow his own wish for a medical career and to fulfill his parents hope for a minister son . . . His education after his regular college work included
M.D. 1909, Denver College of Physicians and Surgeons; Interne Denver Park Avenue Hospital, 1909-1910; M.A. 1911, University of Denver; B.D. 1913, Iliff School of Theology; and Ph.D. in Sociology 1914, Denver University . . .
Alfred's ministry was to the U.B. churches of Durham and Selma, California 1904-1906; South Broadway Congregational Church, Denver, Colorado, 1910-
1913; Berthond,. Colorado U.B. Church 1913-1914; Los Angeles California Pilgrim Congregational Church 1914-1918 . . . In December 1918, the great influenza epidemic closed churches and all public assemblies. This calamity, the dirth of physicians because of the war, together with the appeal to him to use his medical knowledge then took him out of the ministry into medicine.
Never has he regretted this change. He feels that at last he is in his right calling. He has been quite successful in both medicine and surgery.
While doing all general work, he has at the same time specialized in Proctology and has been head of this department at the Dispensary of the Los Angeles Medical Department of the University of California. He is chairman of the medical council of this school. Various medical articles have come from his pen, especially in his special field. Since 1934, he has also been Medical Director of the Third Supervisorial District of Los Angeles County..

Alfred married Minna Caroline Bauer on November 5, 1904, at Sacramento, California. They had one sone, Robert Marshall Adam, born November 8, 1905. At Otterbein College Robert met Joanna Fox of Dayton, Ohio, who later became his wife. They were married on November 24, 1926 and have two children; Frederick John, born on November 14, 1927; and Raymond Alfred, born on June 1, 1930. Robert is now a wholesale salesman with the Coast Wholesale Music Company of Los Angeles, his territory being Southern California and Arizona.
He and his family live in Glendale, California. . . Minna Caroline Bauer Weitkamp died on December 27, 1910 at the age of 29 years of pulmonary Tuberculosis and was buried in Denver, Colorado . . . Alfred married again on July 11, 1912. His second wife was Mary Goeding of Germantown, Ohio.
She was an old college friend. They had a son, Howard, born on September 24, 1916. He died at birth. Recognizing the impossibility of having any other children, they in September 1927 took Robert Lee Wight, born on December 31, 1921, as their son. He was born in Cleveland, Ohio . . . Alfred and his family live in Los Angeles, California.

Robert August Weitkamp was the second child and was born on July 7, 1885, in the family home at 1055 Pine Street, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He married Emelia Louise Bauer on June 22, 1912. Their marriage was blessed by four sons: Harold, born on October 5, 1913; Arthur Robert, born on August 29, 1917; Harvey Meredith, born on December 21, 1918; and Norman Alvin, born on September 23, 1923. . .Harold died on May 27, 1916, from injuries received in a railroad accident. . . Robert is the receiving clerk at the P.R.
Mitchell Company. He is very interested in church affairs and has been the treasurer of the Wiley Memorial United Brethern Church for many years.

Emma Sophia Weitkamp was the third child and was born on June 20, 1888 and died in the month of May 1889. Death was due to spinal meningitis. She was buried on the Wicke Lot in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Edith Elizabeth Weitkamp was the fourth child and was born on December 5, 1890. She married William Emil Bauer on June 20, 1917. To them were born two children: Pauline Elizabeth, born on July 2, 1919; and Alvin William, born on March 16, 1924. . . William E. Bauer is a carpenter at the J. H. Day Company, manufacturers of bakery machinery. He is very active in church work, being the Superintendent of the Primary Department of the Sunday School of the Westwood Methodist Church and a member of the church choir.

Arthur Fred Weitkamp was the fifth and last child, and was born on January 18, 1893. When he was about 18 he went to Denver, Colorado, and became a wholesale bread salesman and later a laundry man. In 1924 he went to Los Angeles, California, again taking up the bread business and becoming route foreman. After about a year he went into the life insurance business, being identified with the Prudential. He has had the opportunity of an assistant superintendency. . . Arthur married Rose Lambotte on September 9, 1915 and their children were: Stanley Kohler, born on May 14, 1917; Ruth Edith, born on April 1, 1920 and died on March 7, 1922 of meningitis; and Rosemary Margaret, born on April 18, 1923. They were all born in Denver and Ruth Edith was buried there . . . Stanley Kohler Weitkamp married Arlys Beryl Rush and they have two children: Gary Richard, born on July 27, 1938; and Margaret Arlys, born on June 11, 1940. Stanley is in the mechanical department of the Southern California Telephone Company.

Death came suddenly to Fred Weitkamp on July 5, 1940. He had been exceptionally well and had talked over various anticipated outings with the family during the summer. On this Friday afternoon, he had just come in from a walk, had changed to his house coat and slippers, and had sat down in his chair to rest. And in the next few minutes quietly slipped away. He was 87 years, 4 months, and 8 days old. His death was due to a hemorrhage of the brain . . . His wife, Sophia Wicke Weitkamp, died on January 28, 1921, at the age of 67 years, 3 months, and 1 day. Death resulted from pneumonia. They are buried on the Wicke Lot, Section 101 and Lot #468, in Spring Grove Cemetery.
